MRS. W. C. S. SEELEY,

To the Electors of the Yale, Lytton and Kootenay District.

GENTLEMEN,—Having a sincere desire to see these districts, this Province, and the whole Dominion prosper, I wish to give a helping hand to those districts who labor for the moral and material wellbeing of our people.

I therefore offer myself as a candidate to represent you in the Ottawa House of Commons.

If I am elected I will strive to uphold the honor, peace and safety of the people, encourage our prosperity, and develop our resources.

I will vigorously uphold all measures tending to our good, and with like vigor, oppose all derogatory to the good of our country and people.

I promise to be ever ready to represent the petitions of my constituents, when right and reasonable; and intend when practicable, consulting them upon the wants &c. of these districts.

It is for you gentlemen to say whether I shall be your representative.

If you have leads, or likely to make a better choice, I will not oppose your man, but will assist in electing him.

Your servant

DR. CHING FUN—A CARD—EDITOR STANDARD:—Through the medium of your paper I want to state the very great good that has been done me by Dr. Ching Fun of this city, next door Kwong Lee & Co. For 26 years I suffered with neuralgia on the brain, which baffled the skull of three first-class American physicians. Latterly bronchitis attacked my right lung, and my voice—wholly inflamed. Despairing of ever being cured myself as a last resort in the hands of Dr. Ching Fun, and after five months treatment I am a well man and feel that I cannot sound the eminent Chinese gentleman's praises too loudly, so that all my countrymen similarly afflicted may visit and find relief. The Members' Indemnity Plot.

The Colonist, in an article yesterday, has revived the question of an increase in the amount of indemnity allowed to members of the Provincial Assembly, and notwithstanding the astounding fact that out of our very limited revenue some $120,000 per annum are already absorbed in the payment of stipends to that vast company of officials included in the "bloated civil list" of the Province, it advocates a further increase of the amount. It seems Mr. Chief Commissioner of Lands and Works Walkem has been starring it among his constituents in the District of Cariboo, and among other topics upon which he aired his eloquence was that of the indemnity to members; and having talked his constituents into a good humour, by making liberal promises of appropriations from the public chest for the benefit of that district, he experienced no difficulty in moving his Williams Creek friends to pass a resolution setting forth that "the rate of indemnity for members of the Legislature should be increased to not less than $7 per day, travelling days included, a reasonable time going and coming to be allowed." This expression of opinion on the part of a few Cariboo miners afforded our contemporary a pretext for again opening up the question, with a view, we presume, of preparing the public mind for a renewed attack upon the public chest by the gentlemen who cut such a ridiculous figure last session, and who on that occasion showed that they were much more largely imbued with a spirit of covetousness and a desire of personal aggrandizement than by a disposition to husband the finances of the country and exercise economy in the expenditures of the public revenue. As a Cabinet Minister, Mr. Walkem took a prominent part in that plot, as the Colonist properly describes it, which, had it been successful, would have relieved the public treasury of several thousand dollars, that would have found their way into the pockets of hon. gentlemen delegated by the people to represent their interests and to see that the public moneys were judiciously expended; and what could be more natural than that Mr. Walkem should seek to have his conduct in this matter endorsed by as many of his constituents as he could conveniently crowd together in a small room? One would have supposed that Mr. Walkem, at all events, should have been content with the indemnity he received in view of being the recipient of $3,800 per annum from the public treasury as a Cabinet Minister. But some people can never be satisfied in the matter of dollars and cents, so long as a prospect is presented of getting more—like the horse-leech their cry is "give, give," totally regardless of consequences. Mr. Walkem, of course, will disclaim having any personal feeling in the matter, and assure the public that his only motive was and is to do justice to others, not to help himself. We may expect, also, the distinguished member for Nanaimo to go and do likewise—to advocate the claims of others to an increased indemnity, but, of course, will have no objection to pocket a few extra dollars himself, should the Government in a moment of weakness yield to the cry of "open sesame," when the House next meets. We entertain precisely the same opinion in reference to this question now that we did last spring. Five dollars per diem during the session is a fair and liberal allowance, ample to cover every legitimate expense that any member need necessarily incur, and any plot that may hereafter be organized, either by the member for Nanaimo or any one else, to compel the Government to consent to any increase of that amount, will be looked upon by the country at large as a shameless and uncalled for attempt to rifle the public treasury—a virtual effort to rob Peter to pay Paul. Last year the demand was $10 per diem for a session of thirty days, with 25 cents per mile mileage; or if the session exceeded thirty days they should have $500 for the session. Hence, if the session should run one day beyond the thirty days, which it no doubt would, seeing that honorable gentlemen would have a direct pecuniary interest in so ordering it, then instead of $10 per day these patriotic gentlemen, these apostles of retrenchment in the public expenditure, would pocket $500 each, which would be a fraction over $16 per diem from the opening to the close of the session. It is now proposed—vide the Cariboo resolution, inspired by Mr. Commissioner Walkem—to increase the members' indemnity from $5 to $7 per diem, travelling days to be included, both coming and going. This is coming down a little, and is certainly less objectionable than the former demand. We nevertheless see no reason why it should be granted. Five dollars is enough, and more than that would be too much. We would readily consent to an increase in mileage from fifteen to twenty-five cents, because it is possible that in the case of up-country members the present rates may fail to cover travelling expenses. To say that competent gentlemen will not accept the position of representatives on account of the inadequacy of the indemnity at present allowed, is all moonshine. How is it that there is no lack of gentlemen willing to accept the much more onerous duties of representing our interests at Ottawa, where the per diem allowance is the same as it is here, while the mileage is one-half less than the local members receive? Why is Mr. Thompson, for instance, so willing to travel all the way from Cariboo to Ottawa, on ten cents a mile, while our local representatives protest that they cannot reach Victoria except at a personal loss with fifteen cents per mile? If the truth were known, those members who clamor so loudly for higher pay do so not because they are poorly paid but because they desire to act upon the principle of making hay while the sun shines. We hope the Government will resist any attempt whatever to increase the present indemnity to members until after the question has been fairly submitted to the people at the polls. We are satisfied public opinion would not endorse it; and if those gentlemen think otherwise, let them resign their seats and appeal to their constituents on the subject. That would be the manly way to test it. Let us see how many of them will dare to do so. Will the member for Nanaimo take the lead?

NEW BOOK.—We have to acknowledge the receipt, from the National Publishing Company of Philadelphia, of two copies of "Lights and Shadows of New York Life," by James D. McCabe, author of a History of the War between Germany and France, and other works. On a former occasion we noticed this new work at some length. It is a volume containing 850 pages of good clearly printed matter, and is profusely illustrated with prominent places, eminent personages, remarkable scenes, etc., etc., connected with the great city it professes to enlighten the public upon. The publishers announce that it will not be for sale in the book stores, but is published and sold only by subscription, and they request us to call attention to the fact that they desire agents here and elsewhere.

THE proclamation in the Canadian Royal Gazette, summoning the new Parliament, pro forma, reads as follows:—Know ye, that We being desirous and resolved, as soon as may be, to meet Our People of Our Dominion of Canada, and to have their advice in Parliament, do hereby, by and with the advice of Our Privy Council for Canada, summon and call together the House of Commons and for Our said Dominion, to meet at Our City at Ottawa, in Our said Dominion, on SATURDAY, the TWELFTH day of OCTOBER next, then and there to have conference and treaty with the Great Men and Senate of Our said Dominion.

OFFICERS IN THE BRITISH ARMY.—A Parliamentary return shows 5,961 English commissioned officers, 809 Scotch, and 1,711 Irish—viz., in the Household Cavalry, 64 English, 11 Scotch, 15 Irish; Cavalry of the Line, 605 English, 81 Scotch, 161 Irish; Royal Horse Cavalry, 202 English, 30 Scotch, 27 Irish; Royal Artillery, 1,088 English, 104 Scotch, 196 Irish; Royal Engineers, 424 English, 52 Scotch, 134 Irish; Foot Guard, 201 English, 30 Scotch, 15 Irish; Infantry of the Line, 3,387 English, 501 Scotch, 1,163 Irish.

A RAM.—The appearance of the late Confederate ironclad Stonewall, steaming into one of the harbors of Japan, created considerable astonishment on board a Dutch craft that was crawling slowly out; and the skipper, thinking that anything strange upon the water must be English, hailed her with, "Vat sheep ish dat?" and was puzzled for the rest of his voyage by the hoarse response from a Yankee officer: "No sheep, but a ram!"

FROM NANAIMO.—The Maude arrived yesterday evening from ports of the East coast with a little produce, 4 mail, and the following passengers:—Messrs. Dawes, Harris, McFarlane, Brannan, and a few others. The bark Union is about finished taking in her load of stone for San Francisco. The Geo. S. Wright cooled and sailed on Monday evening for Portland. The schooner Isabella of Sooke was met on the way to Nanaimo.

SERENADE.—Last evening a large deputation of the Fire Department, accompanied by Haynes' Band, called upon and serenaded Captain Dwyer, a member of the Tiger Engine Co., on the occasion of his marriage, which took place yesterday. The Firemen afterwards called at the STANDARD office and paid Mr. DeCosmos, together with the STANDARD, the Mayor and Mr. Bunster, M. P. P., a similar compliment.

CEMETERY BOARD.—At a meeting of the Board yesterday, the following tenders were accepted:—Mr. Smith Allatt, 6 feet board fence, 23 cents per foot; two sets of entrance gates, $300; ornamental fence near gates, $1 50 per foot. Mr. King—clearing, ploughing and cultivating, $225. No tender for road-making or draining was accepted, owing to the very high prices sent in.

FOR NEW WESTMINSTER.—The steamer Maude left for New Westminster at 2 o'clock last night. She was chartered to take the place of the Otter, which vessel was not able to make the trip in consequence of a slight defect in her boiler. Among the passengers were Messrs. J. C. Haynes and J. K. Suter.

FOR THE EAST COAST.—The Douglas left at 7 o'clock, yesterday morning, for Comox and way ports, with 12 passengers and a small freight; among the passengers were the Hon. A. E. Robertson, Dr. Carrall, J. Anderson, and Mrs. Hales.

RIFLE MATCH.—A rifle match will come off at the butts, Beacon Hill, on Saturday week, between the Victoria Volunteers and the officers and men of H. M. S. Sparrowhawk.

SWEDEN AND NORWAY.—Prince Oscar, brother of the recently deceased King Charles XV., has succeeded to the throne of the united kingdoms of Sweden and Norway.

THE HOSPITAL.—Messrs. Granciel and Johnston were around town yesterday, collecting in aid of the Royal Hospital funds. We are glad to hear they met with success.

THEATRICAL.—The agent of a troupe at present in Portland is making enquiry towards renting the theatre for next or following month.

TOWED UP.—The bark Gustave, Bruen, was towed to the Inlet on Monday night by the Grappler.

FOR THE SOUND.—The North Pacific sailed at 10 o'clock, yesterday morning for Olympia and way ports.

THE stock of Messrs. Fell & Finlayson is advertised this morning for sale by auction.

PILOT BOARD.—The new Pilot Board will be gazetted on Saturday.

Real Estate—Prices Realized Yesterday.

Below we give a list of the prices obtained at auction for a number of city lots, together with some country lands. It will be an index to our readers in Canada, the United States, &c., many of whom make enquiry from time to time, with a view of coming to settle in the country. Buyers and speculators were out in large force yesterday, at Messrs. Davies & Co.'s rooms; the bidding, we think, was not so brisk as on last occasion, and several bargains were had. Following are the figures and purchasers:

Full sized town lot 71, Fort street, with improvements consisting of two frame stores:
J. Bowker—$2,200.

Fort street town lot 780, in the swamp:
Mrs. Leask—$370.

Lot 105, corner of Yates and Blanchard streets, with two small cottages thereon:
Frank Campbell—$1,700.

What Cheer House and lot, adjoining last, on Yates street:
A. Martin—$1,050.

The next lot was had at a very low figure,—lot 368, corner of Yates and Blanchard streets,. But one offer was made, and that was by Joe Davies—$1,000.

Town lot 324, Yates street:
L. Vigelius—$500.

Pandora street property, 2½ acres, corner of above and Cook street:
A. Martin—$2,000.

Two lots, 251 and 252, Kane street, with dwelling house, orchard, &c.; sold low:
T. Allsop—$1,600.

Five acres fronting the Cadboro Bay road, near to the intersection of the "Richmond" road; about two miles from town:
Mr. Wilson (by Mr. Lee)—$900.

A Cadboro Bay farm, three or four miles from town; 230 acres:
Mr. James—$8 per acre.

H. Forman—$230.

Subdivision 3 of 5-acre lot 4, with small house, &c.:
T. Carrington—$240.

Subdivision 22, of 5-acre lot XIII.:
Mr. Allsop—$145.

Fort street lot 291, with frame cottage, double; also a two story house adjoining, on same lot:
J. York—$1,650.

View street lot 296, with two story frame house, &c., rented at $8 per month:
Mr. Eudy—$775.

Two town lots, corner of Menzies street and Dallas road, opposite to the Madana Grove side:
T. Russell—$240.

Lot 1905, on Superior near to Oswego street, James Bay:
Mr. Blaquiere—$135.

The Egyptian Military Expedition Against Abyssinia.

New York, August 28th.—Letter from the frontiers of Abyssinia, written July 20th, gives some particulars of the sudden movement of the Egyptian military expedition against Abyssinia with the intention of conquest. The Egyptian forces are commanded by Muezinger Bey, a native of Switzerland, but residing in Soudan for thirty years, and wedded to a native Princess. He is said to be an admirable diplomat, and a vigorous man of action. Since the death of King Theodore, Prince Cassan has gained over Abyssinia, but of late he has met serious military reverses in battle with insurgent tribes, and is ill prepared to resist the Egyptian aggression. He is reported, however, to have massed a force of 6,000 men to defend his capital.

The Egyptian Minister pretended that King Cassan has been oppressing the priests and permitting neutral roads to be infested with robbers, but it is evident that Egypt seeks to acquire Abyssinia in order to replenish its empty Treasury. The Pacha of Egypt was stayed by England in 1862, when he moved a fine body of soldiers to Kharcun, preparatory to a sudden descent upon Abyssinia, and since that date no direct movement has been made towards the frontier. The Sultan approves the present invasion and England has been taken by surprise.

The first expedition of invasion sailed from Suez in June, on board of three transports, armed with Remington breach-loaders, with support of artillery, six mitrailleuses, stores and camp equippage. The plan of the Egyptians seems to be to attack Abyssinia from Bogos, and securing allies py gold, or by promises of aid in their civil strife, to seize Addol, Magdala, and Condor.—Telegram to the Commercial.

The Cedar Hill School.

EDITOR STANDARD:—In reference to the closing of the Cedar Hill School on the 20th inst., I have to state that there is no "case requiring settlement" in connection with that school. The Bishop of Columbia had for some time allowed the use of the church as a school, but about ten or twelve days ago he gave notice to cease using it for that purpose. The Local Board have done all they could to secure sufficient funds to enable them to build a school, but why they have not succeeded I am not in a position to say. There is blame, if not reason for shame, somewhere.

MR. SEWARD'S TRIP AROUND THE WORLD.—The work is edited by his daughter, Olive Risley Seward, who accompanied Mr. Seward on his wonderful journey, and gives the record of travels, observations and philosophical reflections in Mr. Seward's own words; together with his interviews and talks with Presidents, Kings, Emperors, Sultans, Khedives, Tycoons, Mikados, East Indian Potentates, and his Holiness the Pope. Crossing nearly all the mountains, rivers and oceans of the world, Mr. Seward was received in the countries which he visited as no private tourist has ever before been received in all history accompanied by the largest demonstrations of respect, Emperors and Kings vying with each other in extending courtesies due only to the most distinguished guests, furnishing to his countrymen the evidence of the exalted position he occupies in the world's regard.—From a Circular to Editors.

LONDON TO INDIA DIRECT.—The Select Committee sitting in London on railway communication between the Mediterranean, the Black Sea and the Persian Gulf, have reported in very favorable terms as to the feasibility of constructing a line through Mesopotamia from sea to sea; and they find "reason to expect the sanction, if not the active concurrence, of the Turkish Government." They are of opinion that no such railway—which would cost about ten millions sterling—would be constructed by unassisted private enterprise; but they quote the belief of many competent witnesses that it would be worth the while of the country to give a joint guarantee with Turkey, even though it should involve considerable pecuniary sacrifice.

Until yesterday noon Dutchman's time has stood at the head of the trotting record, notwithstanding such turf celebrities as Flora Temple and Gen. Burley; all tried to beat it and failed. Flora Temple made an attempt on Sept. 27th, 1860, and was 7:33½, performing the distance in the first attempt; and 7:33½ on second attempt. In a trial the same day General Burley took 7:34 for the journey. Dexter also tried the feat at Pavilion, but failed. The glory was reserved to Huntress to eclipse all previous performances, and defeat Dutchman's time by 1½ seconds. Huntress trotting the three miles apparently with ease in seven minutes and twenty-one seconds and a quarter.

Curious Surgery Experiment in Skin Grafting.

[From the New York Tribune.]

Occasionally the public hear through the newspaper and medical journals of "skin grafting." This is a curious surgical operation, but it is now not uncommon in the Hospitals and in private practice. Professor A. B. Mott, of Bellevue Hospital, has introduced a novel practice. Some time ago an Irish woman in this city was severely injured by the explosion of a kerosene lamp, by which her clothing was set on fire; and her right arm and her right breast down to her stomach, were frightfully burned. She was removed to Bellevue Hospital and placed in Dr. Mott's ward. Her case was under treatment for months, and the patient appeared incurable. At the same time a man named McClenahan was in the Hospital, whose leg had been amputated at the thigh. Dr. Mott considered that he might use the healthy skin from the limb in one more effort to cure the disabled woman. He resolved to test the operation of "grafting." Eighty-nine pieces of integument each about one-sixteenth of an inch square, were cut from the amputated limb before the natural warmth had passed out of it, and by gentle pressure applied to as many points of the great open sore on the woman's breast and arm. Of these eighty-nine pieces eighty adhered and became a part of her system. The cure is now perfect and the man who gave of his body to heal the woman's is also well.

The practice of "grafting" is looked upon with favor by eminent surgeons. Sometimes the skin is obtained for the purpose from the body of a person willing to render so much service to another, but more frequently it is cut away from the healthy part of the patient's own body. In this case, however, Dr. Mott used skin from an amputated limb, and thus effected a cure. Old and obstinate ulcers and burns will yield to this treament when they will not to any other. After the "sloughing" from a surface wound has taken place, Nature proceeds in the work of restoration by a granulation process over the whole area of the wound. A thin delicate pellicle of skin growing around the healthy border of the wound, covers the granulation; and if the process is perfect, the cure is also perfect. But the border of the wound may not have sufficient vitality to form the cicatrix which is necessary to healing, or it may be that the wound is too large to be covered. It is in these cases that "grafting" is of no avail. Every separate fragment of skin grafted into the system is a centre of vitality from which the necessary process of cicatrization begins and spread until the cicatrix covered the sore.

A man with a malignant tumor leading under the eye, and occupying the floor of the orbit, recently was placed under Dr. Mott's care. The carotid artery was tied on the side of the tumor, so as to starve it out by depriving it of the nutriment which it had obtained, and then the tumor itself was cut away. The man has recovered.

NILSSON'S marriage was the result of a promise made ten years ago. Ten years ago, Auguste Rouzaud asked the future queen of song to marry him, and she replied: "Later, when I am rich and celebrated." She has now kept her word, and has married the man of her own heart's choice, achieving one of the sweetest romances ever heard of.

Stanley at the British Association Meeting.

The Brighton correspondent of the New York Tribune writes as follows:

Evan Bramwell on "Coal," the humorous brother of Judge Cramwell, hardly commanded attention for his exhaustive address. Everybody was waiting for the Geographical morning when the famous correspondent of the Herald was to read a paper. The whole section seemed to travel by one accord to the Concert Hall, Middle street, a long oblong building, capable of holding some 2,000 people The Empress Eugenie and her son, who had joined the ex-Emperor on the eve of the Napoleon Fete day, arrived shortly before 11—at the wrong door. The Mayor had laid down carpets at a private entrance for the Imperial guests. They alighted at the door of a murky passage. Quickly Mr. Ballet, the admirable arranger of the Association, who is everywhere when wanted, was available here for the guests, and conducted them to their appointed seats in front of the platform. Mr. Stanley was introduced to the Imperial family to whom he slightly bowed, accepted the hand of the Emperor, scarcely spoke, and walked away with becoming dignity. The Mayor, Mr. Borroughs, though bound to show all official courtesy to exiles and visitors, observes a due mean between municipal etiquette and personal self respect. The Prince is a slender g raffe-necked youth with a small well-formed head, dark hair and pleasant swarthy-colored face partaking in expression neither of mother nor father. The Baroness Burdett-Coutts was invited from a seat on the second form to occupy one next to the Prince, which she did. The Empress, being dressed in black with a small, peaky conical hat, did not look to that advantage which is possible to her, with her great art in attire and her animated and splendid presence. She, with good taste appeared as an ordinary English lady only unlike others by a Spanish facility in handling an enormous fan, that looked like half an umbrella, but which she manipulated like a toy. Other ladies near, with fans small as oyster shells, seemed encumbered with them. However, all observation was interrupted in order to give attention to Captain Galton introducing the gentleman from Ujiji, who, though he has a handsome face in repose, can produce an aspect when excited, with which a Manyemba savage would not choose to trifle.

Mr. Stanley began in a loud, resolute, rather excited voice. His color, such as travel has left him, came and went Shortly he got into the stream of animated, manly narrative. His story was worthy of his career. No one had any idea of the utter want of preparation and entire ignorance of Central Africa in which Mr. Stanley was, until he was requested by Mr Bennett to proceed in search of Mr Livingstone. Mr. Stanley told, with great candor, how he had all to learn, and how, after a long journey half round the world, he had to begin in Zanzibar to acquire the geography, language and habits of the savages of the Nile regions. Never was the promptitude and readiness of a newspaper correspondent to undertake any enterprise so well illustrated before. He modestly withheld any illusion to his own risks and sufferings on his adventurous march in search of a white man's bones, for he did not believe that the Doctor existed to any other form. The dispirited stories he was told, of roads blocked up, of wars raging, of cannibals very hungry, of the Doctor dead, or exceedingly disagreeable if alive, who would resent and disown him if he found him, were enough to the greatest heroism and the most persistent of explorers. The Emperor, Empress and Prince, listened with undiminished interest to every word Mr. Stanley spoke. The Empress watched but did not seem to understand what was said. The Prince slightly made out the points; his father, by constant indication of assent and laughter, showed that he understood it all. When Stanley came to that part of his narrative in which he recounted to Dr Livingstone the European changes that had occurred in his absence, the Empress, knowing nothing of what was impending, looking up with her usual cautious and blank curiosity; the Prince with a boy's interest seemed to think only of what new thing was coming The Emperor could not restrain a quiver of the face, until Stanley considerately looked away from the point, merely observing, "I told him that Europe had been turned upside down since he left it." The Imperial auditor was clearly relieved, as his face relaxed into its old and customary immobility. Mr. Stanley's reticence was that of a gentleman. He might have wounded in that hour with words of detail deeper than sword could cut. Stanley rightly calculated that the audience wished a narrative of his finding Livingstone from himself, and gave it. It had mostly been published, but not a fourth of the persons present could know the story accurately, and all were glad to hear it again from himself and were rewarded by hearing several details not before known. His discussion with Mr. Bennett, at the bedroom meeting, on the points of cost; his desire to turn a somersault on seeing Dr. Livingstone; how, before he met the Doctor, as he marched down the last hundred yards to where he expected to meet him, his thoughts recurred with the instinct of a correspondent, to the telegraph on the coast which he must next press forward to, to send to America and Europe the last new fact that Dr. Livingstone was found—all these gave one a new idea of the courage and resources of the travelling journalist with a mission.
